

---

White wines to welcome the merrymaking season

COLUMN WRITTEN BY PHILLIP SILVERSTONE

OK, so those winter festivities are sneaking up on us which means Silverstone to the rescue with the appropriate libations to take us from Turkey Day to Ball Dropping night. This week and next I'll focus on wines suited to Thanksgiving, although, as you already know, I'm not convinced that you need a specific wine for a particular food. I've been banging on for years about how subjective that marriage can be. All of the wines I will list really do rock!

This week I'll focus on the white wines.

Bellenda Prosecco San Fermo DOCG (approximately $19.99) will kick start any festive occasion with its spirited and enticing effervescence. My old chum Granny Smith pops out in the flavor with other yummy summer fruits in this Italian charmer. An ideal guest greeter regardless of their taste in wine. Cheers!

