

THE TWEEDDALE THE LAST CENTENNIAL SINGLE GRAIN SCOTCH WHISKY

Description: Super premium blended malt Scotch whisky

Alcohol by Volume: 52.1%

Origin: Scotland

Taste: A burst of peach, grape, and plum notes. Ashy notes, a rich cigar, and toasted woody notes. Hints of a dry Riesling, with the mineral notes combining with more fruit. Teasing finish of toasted oak notes and worn leather.

The last page of the cellar book was penned in 1916, making 2016 the 100-year anniversary of the last entry.

To celebrate, we've used elements from a number of recipes in the book to create this super premium blended malt Scotch whisky – The Tweeddale The Last Centennial. The Last Centennial is a blend of 4 single cask single malts predominantly from Islay, with plenty of Highland and a dash of Speyside – the last casks that were used in all 5 batches of the The Tweeddale blend to date. Our newest whisky is bottled at 52.1% abv, and – as always – non-chill filtered.